News of Petersburg

The Times-Dispatch Bureau, 5 Bollingbrook Street, (Phone 1455).

Petersburg, Va., March 7.

At a meeting last night of committee of the Citizens' Hotel Company and Petersburg Investment Corporation, which are to be merged for the purpose of building a modern hotel of large size on West Tabb Street, plans were formulated for getting actively to work. Representatives of other bodies deeply interested in the hotel scheme were present, and the meeting was an enthusiastic one. The corporation is to have a stock of $100,000 in hand to devote to the erection of the hotel, and it is proposed to make a five days' whirlwind campaign to raise $10,000 additional in the city, independent of what may be subscribed outside. This campaign will be started on Monday. An executive committee to have charge of the work was appointed, consisting of H. S. Seward, M. A. Finn, I. A. Rosenstock, C. C. Wright and T. F. Heath, and seven campaign soliciting committees of five members each, and each offered by a captain and lieutenant, were named. Headquarters were established for meetings and reports, and supper will be served each evening.

The whole project is in the hands of active, progressive business men, who will know no such word as fail.

WRECK SURVIVORS BROUGHT TO PORT

Captain and Crew of Charlemagne Tower, Jr., Are Picked Up at Sea.

RESCUED BARELY IN TIME

Men Near Death From Exposure When Help Arrives.

Newport News, Va., March 7.—Bringing Captain H. C. Simmons and sixteen members of the crew of the American steamer Charlemagne Tower, Jr., which went down off the New Jersey coast yesterday morning, the wholeback steamer Bay Port reached here late this afternoon. The wreck survivors were landed at Sewell's Point, where they boarded a trolley for Norfolk, leaving Norfolk to-night for New York.

Half Dead From Exposure. With four of the men half dead from exposure, the shipwrecked crew was picked up near Barnegat Light yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock during a blinding snowstorm, five miles south of where the Charlemagne Tower, Jr., foundered. The rescue was effected by the barest chance, a signal light attracting the attention of Captain Beranger, of the Bay Port, just as the steamer was in the act of passing the small boat. Snow was falling heavily, and it was fast growing dark. Captain Beranger, who was on the bridge, barely could see the light as it flared up. The Bay Port put about and discovered the half frozen and snow-covered men huddled in a twenty-foot boat. A stiff wind prevailed at the time, and the men were water-soaked and numb from cold. In order to make room for the overcrowded cargo some of the men were forced to lie in the bottom of the boat, and these were in worse condition than the others, four of them being restored with difficulty after being taken aboard the Bay Port. These men, Quartermaster John Dowling, Steward Cecil Green, Fireman Webb and Messman Ralph Holmes, were finally restored and landed with the others this afternoon.

The full list of those picked up by the Bay Port follows: Captain H. C. Simmons, Chief Engineer H. A. Wilber, Second Mate H. Neave, Third Mate C. P. Whiting, First Assistant Engineer H. A. Albion, Second Assistant Engineer W. Dobar, Quartermasters John Dowling and C. Doehson, Seamen M. Dickinson and W. Walla; Louis Edwards, Bert Albion and Ed. Ellison, sailors; Cecil Green, steward; Ralph Holmes, messman; and Fireman M. Hendrickson and W. Webb.

Learns of Their Rescue. Captain Simmons did not know of the rescue of First Officer Thompson, one fireman and two seamen until his arrival in port, as when last seen these men were struggling in the surf, their small boat having been swamped. The larger boat put toward the open sea fearing a similar fate. Unable to make headway in the rough sea, which poured water into their little craft almost as fast as it could be bailed out, the men decided to drift and depend on being picked up. They huddled together so benumbed and water soaked that they hardly cared toward the last whether death came or not.

It was 5 o'clock and snowing hard when they saw the lights of the Bay Port and set off a torch. Had this not been seen and a response made, Captain Simmons said he and his men could not have survived many more hours.

In explaining the foundering of the Charlemagne Tower, Jr., Captain Simmons said that her bottom seams, the vessel being of wood, opened and about 7 o'clock Friday morning water poured in at such a rate that two hours later the ship was filled to her upper beams. He and his men barely had time to get off in the only two small boats the steamer carried before she plunged to the bottom.

First Mate Thompson and three men took to the small boat and the remainder of the crew crowded into the twenty-foot boat picked up by the Bay Port. The Charlemagne Tower, Jr., was owned by the Southern Steamship Company, and, with the exception of one trip to Wilmington, N. C., had been out of commission for six years, it is said.

Life-Savers Handicapped. Seaside Park, N. J., March 7.—The steamer Charlemagne Tower, Jr., sank yesterday in fifty feet of water, three-quarters of a mile from shore, between Cedar Creek and Forked River. Life-savers stations, six miles south of here, H. B. Thompson, of Brooklyn, first mate, and three of the members of the crew were brought ashore. The revenue cutter Itasca reached the scene after the steamer went down. The commander of the cutter was signalled from shore of the predicament of the steamer, and put off in a boat. There are two big sand bars near where the steamer sank, and the life-savers were seriously handicapped in launching their boats. One finally was launched, but was upset, and the life-savers waded ashore.

Wire communication along the coast has been completely prostrated since last Sunday's storm, and communication along the life-saving stations today was difficult and only accomplished after delay.

Nurse Proclaims Skin Cure

Myrtle Hahn Says D. D. D. Prescription Is Worth Rockefeller's Millions to Her.

"Ten years I suffered with eczema—three years of that time I could not appear in public. My entire body was covered with the disease. I could not eat. I could not sleep. I could not live. I have at last found the great Prescription D. D. D. My body is clean, smooth. If there were one bottle only of D. D. D. in the world and I had it, Mr. Rockefeller's millions could not buy the golden fluid."

NURSE MYRTLE HAHN (in care of Watter's Hospital, Durham, N. C.) How about you? If you have any skin blemish or a little rash, do not let it develop into something more serious. Remember D. D. D. Prescription has been recognized for fifteen years as the standard skin remedy. It always helps, and if used according to directions, it should cure in a short while.

All druggists sell this standard remedy, but if you come to us, we will offer you the first full size bottle with the guarantee that unless it stops the itch at once we will refund the purchase price.

Ask also about D. D. D. skin soap, containing the same healing ingredients. It keeps the skin always clean and healthy. Traylor Drug Co.
